Tom the Toad
 Tune: Oh Tannenbaum
 Pow Wow Books

Oh, Tom the Toad! Oh, Tom the Toad!
 Why did you jump out in the road?
 Oh, Tom the Toad! Oh, Tom the Toad!
 Why did you jump out in the road?
 You were so big and green and fat,
 Now you're small and red and flat.
 Oh, Tom the Toad! Oh, Tom the Toad!
 Why did you jump out in the road?

Follow the same pattern for the following:

Oh, Tom the Toad! Oh, Tom the Toad!
 Why did you jump out in the road?
 You did not see that car ahead
 And now your flattened by the tread!

Oh, Sam the Snake! Oh, Sam the Snake!
 Why do you lie out there and bake?
 You did not see the truck go by
 Now you look like a butterfly!

Oh, Sue the Skunk! Oh, Sue the Skunk!
 Why do you make my tires go klunk?
 You didn't look from east to west,
 Now on the road is such a mess.

That's all there is, There is no more!
 Of bumps on roads and blood and gore.
 We hope you had your fill of it,
 And agree with us, it's time to quit.

Directions.

TIME-MANAGEMENT

Scoutmaster Minute

A man stood in front of the group of high-powered over-achievers, he said, "Okay, time for a quiz." Then he pulled out a one-gallon, wide-mouthed mason jar and set it on a table in front of him. Then he produced about a dozen fist-sized rocks and carefully placed them, one at a time, into the jar. When the jar was filled to the top and no more rocks would fit inside, he asked, "Is this jar full?" Everyone in the class said, "Yes." Then he said, "Really?" He reached under the table and pulled out a bucket of gravel. Then he dumped some gravel in and shook the jar causing pieces of gravel to work themselves down into the spaces between the big rocks.

Then he smiled and asked the group once more, "Is the jar full?" By this time the class was onto him. "Probably not," one of them answered. "Good!" he replied. And he reached under the table and brought out a bucket of sand. He started dumping the sand in, and it went into all the spaces left between the rocks and the gravel. Once more he asked the question, "Is this jar full?"

"No!" the class shouted. Once again he said, "Good!" Then he grabbed a pitcher of water and began to pour it in until the jar was filled to the brim. Then he looked up at the class and asked, "What is the point of this illustration?"

One eager beaver raised his hand and said, "The point is, no matter how full your schedule is, if you try really hard, you can always fit some more things into it!"

"No," the speaker replied, "that's not the point. The truth this illustration teaches us is: If you don't put the big rocks in first, you'll never get them in at all."

The title of this letter is The "Big Rocks" of Life. What are the big rocks in your life? A project that YOU want to accomplish? Time with your loved ones? Your faith, your education, your finances? A cause? Teaching or mentoring others? Remember to put these BIG ROCKS in first or you'll never get them in at all.
